Director Emeritus

According to Article III, Section E of the Foundation Bylaws, the Nominating Committee is empowered to make recommendations for the category of Director Emeritus. Per the Bylaws, the title of Director Emeritus shall be granted only to a former member of the Board of Directors who, while a member, rendered exemplary and extraordinary service to the Board and thus to Davidson County Community College. Nominees must have served at least two terms or six years; held a leadership position as an officer, Executive Committee member, or committee chair; and made financial contributions. Directors Emeritus will serve as ambassadors in the community and in an advisory capacity to the Foundation. They shall be invited to all Foundation functions and meetings with no voting privileges and receive meeting minutes and be informed of all activities of the Foundation.

The following person is proposed as a new Director Emeritus:

- Phil Griffin, of Thomasville, a member of the Foundation Board since 2012, a member of the Executive Committee since 2018 and vice president for the last year, and a member of the Golf Committee during his entire Board tenure. Phil's unwavering commitment to the College and Foundation has led him to volunteer in numerous capacities over the years and to serve as a tireless community advocate, making connections to benefit the College and Foundation and recruiting new Board members to continue building strong leadership for the future.
